

kangxi blue and white moulded porcelain jar and cover

SOLD

REF: 167214

Short Description

Chinese early 18th century made during the reign of the Emperor Kangxi. each moulded panels is painted with a a flowering plant and around the neck are Daoist emblems. Unusually the panels are not outlined in blue which is more common

The base has the Yue mark or Jade mark in under glaze blue.

The white metal lid is very probably silver but not hallmarked based on the Dutch or Eastern European style.

Small neat jar.

More Information

Year	1662 - 1722
Medium	Porcelain and silver
Country	China
Condition	What is visible is perfect