

Kangxi Blue and White Moulded Bowl

SOLD

REF: 333920

Diameter: 11 cm (4 1/4")

Short Description

Chinese - Kangxi - c1700 blue and white deep U shape moulded bowl. Made at the kilns at Jingdezhen for export to Europe although the decoration is painted in the Chinese taste with a variation of the 100 boy pattern it shows boys being watched by ladies while at play in all different activities.

The boy pattern is a reference to the Confucian belief that boys and not girls were needed in large numbers to maintain society and the family.

Excellent detail

The inside of the bowl is painted to show a boy playing football

To the inside of the base there is a six character mark that reads Precious as a round gem of beautiful jade

The body is lightly moulded with small flutes that give the rim a wavy appearance

More Information

---

|           |   |
|-----------|---|
| Year      | 1662 - 1722   |
| Medium    | Porcelain   |
| Country   | China   |
| Condition | Over all excellent very small tiny frits on the rim |